

NOTES

The range of colors shown is a small sampling of the available color options. Additional shades can be developed to meet your individual requirements.

The light source under which you view the colors within the wheel can impact your perception of the color. Colorcon matches are verified under D65 standard daylight illuminant.

Colorcon dispersion products are non-compendial excipient mixtures and are designed with ingredients that meet appropriate regulatory/compendial requirements for intended uses.

The information contained in this document is not intended as legal advice, and should not be relied upon for that purpose. Each customer is responsible for determining the regulatory acceptability of the finished product in their specific application and markets.

Prior to selecting a color and a film coating formulation, detailed regulatory information related to your target market can be requested from Colorcon's Global Regulatory Affairs group via our on-line request system or by contacting your local Colorcon representative.
